

The Cornell ILR Online Credit Labor Studies Program provides busy union activists with an opportunity to take college credit courses without regard to their location or work schedules. While there is no physical classroom there is considerable student-to-student and student-to-instructor interaction, making for lively discussions and group learning. Courses available 24/7 during the class period (6-12 weeks) and you never have to be online at a particular date or time.

Courses advance students' knowledge about the issues that matter most to their day-to-day roles and include Collective Bargaining, Labor History, Labor/Employment Law, Contemporary Labor Issues and Contract Administration.

Requirements:

A Certificate of Labor Studies can be earned by successfully completing 18 credit courses including three 3 core subject classes:

- Labor History (including labor and film)
- Collective Bargaining
- Labor Law (including Labor Relations in Public Sector) and

Completing the remaining credits from any 1.5 or 3.0 undergraduate college credits in any subject area with more classes being added every year.

An Advanced Certificate of Labor Studies will be awarded to those who complete an additional 9 credits offered in the program in any subject area.
