

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT WORKER RESOURCE CENTER

Are you launching a career in the arts, entertainment or media industries?
Get the support you need!

The Arts & Entertainment Worker Resource Center, created to support and empower early career cultural workers, along with The Worker Institute at Cornell and the NYC Department of Cultural Affairs, present a 3-seminar series:

Thriving in Arts & Entertainment in NYC

OCT 30, 2017

Survival: 101

Information and the Resources you NEED: NYC Arts & Culture Landscape, Healthcare, Housing, Your Rights as a Worker... and more!

NOV 30, 2017

Get Paid, Get Funded, Get Creating

Intellectual Property, Freelancers' Rights, Work Space, Grants and Funding Opportunities.

JAN 22, 2018

Speaking Up: Advocating for Yourself & Others

Networking for Collective Power, Connecting with Arts & Entertainment Unions and Arts Advocates.

All seminars take place from 4:00 - 6:00 pm at the NYC Department of Cultural Affairs, 31 Chambers Street, Room 209

RSVP for one or more seminars: <https://thrivinginarts.eventbrite.com/>
RSVP is required. Space is limited. First come, first served.

Access Notes: 31 Chambers Street has an accessible entrance on Reade Street, between Elk and Centre Streets and accessible restrooms. We encourage all persons with disabilities – residents, artists, members of the cultural community – to attend. To request additional information regarding accessibility or accommodations at the event, please contact Sara Cobb at: disabilityfacilitator@culture.nyc.gov or (212) 513-9376.
