

Marlon Walker, Coordinator of CONNECT Men & Boys Programs, Marlon is a full-time trainer and educator for the CONNECT Training Institute (CTI) and CONNECT's Community Empowerment Program (CEP). Marlon is also one of the lead trainers for Understanding Domestic Violence: Essentials & Intersections and was co-trainer for a collaborative project called 'Men and Women as Allies' that trains Verizon staff and management on domestic violence and workplace bullying. Marlon currently facilitates 'Hombres Dialagoando', a group for Spanish speaking men struggling with violence in their relationships (he facilitates several of these groups in the city). Marlon has also worked as an Early Head Start teacher, family worker, and as Male Involvement Coordinator. Marlon facilitates workshops to adolescent boys in high schools throughout NYC and is a community educator and trainer for community based programs throughout NYC.