

Cornell University
ILR School

Immigration: Economics, Attitudes, and Policies

Class of 1950 Professor of Economics
University of California, Berkeley

David Card

One of the world's leading economists, David Card is an influential voice on how immigration impacts the global community.

Tuesday, March 15, 2011
4:30 - 6 p.m.

ILR School, Cornell University
305 Ives Hall

Free and open to the public

Sponsored by the Institute for the Advancement of Economics at Cornell (IAEC) and hosted by the ILR School's Department of Labor Economics

For more information, contact Shelly Hall, srh25@cornell.edu

ILR School
ADVANCING THE WORLD OF WORK

ILR School

PUBLIC
ENGAGEMENT

Cornell University

WWW.ILR.CORNELL.EDU

ILR is HR

Cornell University's ILR School is a world leader in HR education for executives, managers and practitioners at all levels. We offer:

- Professional development workshops in NYC
- Certificates in HR studies and leadership
- Online eCornell learning and executive education
- Custom programs unique to your needs
- Several master's degree programs

ILR School
ADVANCING THE WORLD OF WORK

Cornell University

www.ilr.cornell.edu