

KICKOFF & OPEN HOUSE

ILR COMMUNITY STANDS UP, TALKS HOPES & FEARS

Project "Work It!" Officially Kicks Off

This past week, ILR alums, faculty, and staff joined IDEO at the Statler Hotel to ask, "How might we face the future without abandoning our past?" Those gathered rose from their chairs to share perspectives and stories. Said one participant, "This banquet carpeting has never seen so much action."

The next day, thanks to nimble efforts by Betsy Wiggers and Tom Addonizio, the team hosted a three-hour Open House to learn more from faculty and staff members—and turnout was staggering. Everyone who joined the ongoing conversation brought an abiding love for ILR as well as deep concerns for its future.

GUEST PHOTOGRAPHER
David Yantorno

COMING UP NEXT:

Open House in NYC

Sitting down with alumni

What do parents really think?